O. REICHARDT DIES BY OWN HAND

WELL-KNOWN RANCHER WORRIED
BY ILL-HEALTH TAKES HIS OWN LIFE BY SEVERING HIS JUGULAR VEIN WITH RAZOR.

Residents of the north end of San Mateo county were shocked Thursday to learn of the suicide, Wednesday, of Otto Reichardt at his San Mateo Park home. Mr. Reichardt, under the stress of ill health, locked himself in the bathroom of his home Wednesday afternoon and took his own life by cutting his jugular vein with a razor. The fact that Reichardt had taken his own life was not discovered until Mrs. Reichardt went to call her husband to dinner.

Reichardt was 47 years of age and had long been a resident of California. He had built up a large business at his duck farm, which he established ten years ago, and was reported to be well-to-do. His health, however, had failed somewhat of late, and he had been brooding and melancholy in the belief that he would not fully recover. He left no word to explain the reason for taking his life, and members of the family believe it was due to his worry over ill health.

In addition to the widow, Amalia Reichardt, he leaves seven children, Gertrude and Leona Reichardt, Mrs. George Beveridge of South San Francisco, Mrs. Walter W. Friedrichs of San Mateo, Irvine, Otto Jr., and Howard Reichardt.

The dead man, who was born in Germany, had lived in this country since he was a boy of 15 years.

MURDERER'S WILL IS FILED FOR PROBATE IN REDWOOD

A strange even gruesome sidelight on the slaying of little Thelma Lee at San Bruno Tuesday of last week came to light yesterday, when a will drawn up the day before the murder by Paul Nelson, the slayer, was filed for probate by Kirkbride & Gordon, attorneys, in Redwood City. Mrs. Millie Lee, mother of the murdered child, was a witness to the drawing of the will, as was Ole Lee, a relative. The drawing of the will would seem to indicate that the murder of the little girl was premeditated by Nelson.

Although the motive for the murder was attributed to the rejection of Nelson's attentions by Mrs. Lee, the will discloses that all of Nelson's property was left to his wife, Mrs. Sophie Nelson of San Francisco, with the exception of $1 to each of his children, Alvin, Seville and Marie Nelson.

The property consists of $876 cash, an automobile valued at $300, $800 in bills receivable, ten lots in San Bruno. Mrs. Nelson was named as executrix.

CHAMBER COMMERCE HOLDS REGULAR MEET

Plan to Get Out Special Edition of Enterprise for City Hall
Opening Endorsed.

The South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce held its regular semi-monthly meeting at the city hall Tuesday night with a good attendance.

The outstanding feature of the meeting was the unanimous vote of the members present to get behind the movement to publish a big special edition of The Enterprise on the occasion of the opening and dedication of the new city hall. As this event marks a big step forward in the progress of South San Francisco, the editor's suggestion that the paper would get out a large booster edition of the local paper was received with much approval and promises of support. It is planned to make this special edition cover the city thoroughly, setting forth its growth in a few years from a very small beginning to a great industrial center, as well as its advantages as a home and industrial city. The intention, as the plan was laid before the Chamber, is to have an edition containing illustrated write-ups of all the city's business houses and industrial plants. The plan was given the Chamber's unqualified endorsement.

Routine matters were disposed of and the meeting adjourned to meet again Tuesday evening, September 28th.

COUNTY COMMITTEES MEET IN REDWOOD AND ORGANIZE

Both the new Republican and Democratic county committees met in Redwood City Tuesday and organized, the Republicans in the morning and the Democrats in the afternoon.

The Republicans re-elected John MacBain of Menlo Park chairman, H. W. Amphlett of San Mateo secretary and D. E. O'Keefe of Menlo Park treasurer. They endorsed Harding and Coolidge for president and vice-president, respectively, and Shortridge for United States senator.

The Democratic county committee chose Attorney Albert Mansfield of Redwood City again for their chairman, elected Ed Stack, deputy county auditor, secretary, and District Attorney Franklin Swart as delegate to the Democratic state committee meeting at Sacramento next week. They also passed resolutions endorsing James M. Cox for president and Franklin D. Roosevelt for vice-president; James D. Phelan for re-election to the office of United States senator, and Hugh S. Hersman for re-election as congressman from this district.

OCEAN SHORE R. R. WANTS TO DISSOLVE

Officers Testify Before Railroad Board as to Money Road Has Lost.

That the Ocean Shore Railroad has lost $364,187 in the last seven years was the basis of a petition for the dissolution of the railroad company heard before the State Railroad Commission in San Francisco Monday. The hearing was continued till October 1st, when final testimony of the company's affairs will be taken.

"It was the automobile that put the Ocean Shore out of business," said John W. Crosby, auditor of the company, "and it is the same agency that will make it impossible to restore it to a paying proposition."

Commissioner Devlin, who presided at the hearing, urged that the officials and stockholders hold a conference immediately in an effort to work out ways and means of saving the road.

Attorney F. F. Thomas Jr., attorney for the road, frowned at the suggestion, saying, "We want to get rid of the road before it falls into the ocean."

The principal witness at Monday's session was Auditor Crosby. He testified that assessments totalling $1,100,000 had been collected from the stockholders in an effort to place the road on a paying basis.

"Not since 1912," said Crosby, "has the road showed a profit. For the first five months of this year we have incurred a deficit of $48,330. Last year the company lost $88,000."

Crosby said the War Labor Board's award of an annual pay increase of $30,000 brought about their decision to dissolve the road and thereby save company and its stockholders from complete disaster.

Dinner parties were interrupted at Cheetham's Tavern and the Sixteen-Mile House, and liquor to the value of several hundred dollars was seized.

Monday J. F. Cheetham, proprietor of Cheetham's Tavern; his bartender, P. E. Toppins; Mrs. A. Baradat, proprietor of the Sixteen-Mile House; A. ## REPUBLICANS GET READY FOR CAMPAIGN

Club Formed and Plans Laid for Aggressive Work Looking Toward Local Victory.

Meeting at the city hall in South San Francisco Wednesday night a number of staunch Republican citizens and voters of this city formed the South San Francisco Republican Club. The new organization expects to take a prominent part in the coming campaign, and to that end committees and sub-committees were formed to see that work in the Republican cause is carried on so as to bring the greatest results.

The meeting was the result of a visit to South San Francisco Wednesday of James A. Miller, a representative from the state and national Republican headquarters. Mr. Miller arrived in town entirely unexpectedly, but such Republicans as could be gathered together on short notice were called to the city hall and organized. The company elected L. G. Hardy Jr. president of the club, E. E. Cunningham treasurer, Robert Speed secretary, and J. W. Coleberd assistant secretary. Short but pointed talks on the approaching campaign were made by Mr. Miller, W. J. Martin, J. W. Coleberd, and E. E. Cunningham.

For the purpose of selecting nine vice-presidents a committee of three was appointed, consisting of L. G. Hardy Jr., Mrs. Mary De Vita, and Patrick Bowler.

An executive committee of fifteen was named, the persons to serve upon it being the following: E. E. Cunningham, W. J. Martin, F. A. Cunningham, Mrs. Mary De Vita, L. G. Hardy Jr., Patrick Bowler, B. ## CITY TRUSTEES MEET AND ARRANGE CITY BUDGET

The city trustees held an informal meeting at the city hall Monday night for the purpose of going over the city expenditures for the coming year and forming a budget. The furnishing of the new city hall came in for a lengthy discussion. It is felt that the magnificent new structure should be furnished in a style in keeping with its appearance and this will call for a considerable expenditure at the present high price of furniture. It is expected that by the middle of October the city will be moving into its beautiful new home. The trustees held another informal meeting Thursday night to still further discuss expenditures.

STEEL MILL CARPENTER GETS HAND IN BUZZ SAW

At first it was believed that the amputation of two fingers would be necessary, but Dr. Dolley succeeded in saving them, and it is believed his hand will eventually be almost as good as ever.

At Monday's meeting of the county supervisors a communication was received from the Masonic Cemetery Association complaining of the stench arising from hog ranches run in the neighborhood of the Masonic Cemetery and of the drainage from some of these ranches. The board decided to withhold action until next meeting and in the meantime to visit the cemetery in a body.

A communication was received from Miss Anne Bell Bailey, county librarian, conveying her resignation to the board. The resignation was accepted. Miss Bailey gave no reason for the action.

SENATOR W. HARDING GREETES CALIFORNIANS

Presidential Nominee Entertains Pilgrims From West and Talks on American Ideals.

Marion (Ohio), Sept. 14.—Following are extracts from the text of the speech of Senator Warren G. Harding to the California pilgrims who journeyed across the continent to pay their respects to the Republican nominee, and to lay before him their state problems, industrial, economic, and political:

"Americans: I greet you who have come from far places, with deep gratitude for the honor you have done the cause I represent, which I believe is the cause of all the people of America.

"There is no sectionalism in the United States and if we all, by tolerance and justice and patriotism stand together—the north and the south, the east and the west—we will perpetuate that spirit by which America has had her being and her glories, coming through stress and storm at all times, but always coming through. "America first," that spirit, my friends, is behind our individual citizenship which conceives government as being the expression of a community of interests and not a paternal or autocratic or one-man source of pretended benevolence. It is an absurd idea that government may be the distributor of magic resources. The only resources of a government are the resources that its citizens put into it.

"Let me say to you Californians, and to all of this company of Americans today, I like the spirit of California. One gets it first in the story of mission days, then in the romance of stalwart men in revealing the mineral wealth of hill and valley, in the triumph of irrigation, in the majesty of your wonderland, in the confident resolution of your forward-looking people.

"Fit for an empire within your own borders, you give of your confidence, your resolution, your genius, your spirit to make the greater republic and share in its triumphs. Your state sent forward many outriders for the procession of American advancement. Your state quaffed the cup of confidence when the older states clung to the assurances of conservatism, and the republic owes much of its marvel of progress to the onward spirit of the West. You in the West beneath the surface of materialism touched the springs of social justice, and irrigated the desert of human selfishness.

"You in the West led in bringing womanhood into the full participation of citizenship, and you in the West gave us the inspiring example of America excelling in manhood and womanhood in order to lead in social achievement.

"Out of the East constitutional government and its guaranties, out of the West came the widening of opportunity and new inspiration; and the blend of these, in the harmonized resolution of the one with the glowing spirit of the other, comes the impelling thought of America.

"Confident of itself, reassured concerning its people, committed to self-government, fraternizing with the world, but jealous of our freedom and resolved to maintain it.

"Today, for example, you have come here from the Pacific Coast of our country. I do not doubt that Americans on the coast are troubled in their minds about the Oriental question, as it is called. That question raises every interpretation of our watchword, 'America First,' for it involves four sets of obligations. It involves our obligations to great foreign powers; it involves the obligation of all America toward one group of American states, and their peoples, but it also involves the obligations of that group of states to the nation.

"There is abundant evidence of the dangers which lurk in racial differences. I do not say racial inequalities—I say racial differences. I am ever ready to recognize that the civilization of the Orient is older than ours, that her peoples have their proud and honorable traditions.

"In spite of the honor of these oriental peoples and in spite of their contributions to the world's advancement, it is conceivable that they may be so different in racial characteristics or in manner of life or practice from other peoples of equal honor and achievement, that no matter whether it be on the soil or one or upon the soil of the other, these differences, without raising any question of inferiority, superiority, or inequality, may create, as I believe they have created upon our Pacific Coast, without blame to either side, a friction that must be recognized. The nation owes it to the Pacific Coast to recognize that fact. The nation owes it to the Pacific Coast states to stand behind them in necessary measures consistent with our national honor to relieve them of their difficulties."

NOW IS THE TIME TO EXCHANGE TEMPORARY BONDS

Holders of temporary Liberty bonds of the first, second, and third Liberty loans are failing to take advantage of the opportunity to exchange their holdings for permanent bonds bearing coupons to maturity, according to John U. Calkins, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. Interest on these temporary coupons cannot be collected beyond the number of coupons attached to them, and it is of vital importance to those who bought first, second, and third Liberty loan bonds to turn them in for permanent securities.

The banks of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District have been advised that owing to unavoidable delays in preparing permanent bonds of the fourth Liberty Loan, these will not be available, as planned, on October 15th. It is probable that the exchange of temporary fourth loan bonds for permanent securities of that issue will not be begun prior to February 1, 1921. However, as soon as the date commencing such exchange can be definitely determined, announcement will be made. The banks are cautioned not to forward temporary fourth loan bonds to the Federal Reserve Bank until advised that the Federal Reserve Bank is in a position to make the exchange.

VOTE "NO" ON PROPOSITION NO. 2 Argument Against Harris State Prohibition Enforcement Act

Proposition No. 2 on the November Ballot

Proposition No. 2 (the Harris State Prohibition Enforcement Act), does not represent true California sentiment. The measure itself is the product of the last Legislature, which absolutely misrepresented the majority wish of the people of this State on the question of prohibition. In 1914, 1916, and 1918 California voted down prohibition by very decisive majorities. Within sixty days after the people had rejected the third attempt of the prohibitionists, a Legislature dominated by radical "drys" performed the startling feat of placing this State in the prohibition column by ratifying the Eighteenth Amendment and passing the Harris Act in California by way of enforcement.

In the rush to take advantage of a favorable Legislature, upon the personnel of which the prohibition element had worked at the preceding election, the Harris bill was devised and adopted eight months before the Volstead National Enforcement Act was passed by Congress. The grape-growing interests of California availed themselves of the right of referendum and promptly presented a widely-signed petition to the Secretary of State. This brings the question of prohibition again before the voters.

Men and women who believe in democracy in government should unhesitatingly vote "NO" on Proposition No. 2. In the annals of political history in this State, there is no more glaring perversion of the law of justice or thwarting of the will of the people than was exemplified in the passing of this particular State measure. Even a prohibitionist who would profess to love justice, would vote down this legislation with conscience clear. The conservative reasoning voter really has no other course to pursue if he analyzes the facts.

Let it be explained further that this act would foist on this State a bone-dry prohibition law from which the people of California could get no relief even if Congress in its judgment later on saw fit to modify the Volstead Act by permitting the use of light wines and beers in the home. If Proposition No. 2 becomes the law in our State, we would find ourselves under rigid radical prohibition while other States in the Union could enjoy any modifications that might come through Congress by amendment of the Volstead Act. This would make a laughing stock of California which produces ninety per cent of all the grapes grown in the United States.

Proposition No. 2, being of premature birth, is unnecessary legislation. If it becomes the law, it compels those who purchase liquor for non-beverage purposes, to obtain double sets of permits—one from the United States Prohibition Enforcement Department and another from the California State Board of Pharmacy.

I trust the great majority of voters of this State will mark "X" opposite the word "NO" on this measure and thereby again defeat prohibition in California for the fourth time. I repeat that the proposed law is superfluous, would bar light wines and beer in the home, and does not reflect the true sentiment of our glorious hospitable California.

(Signed) E. M. SHEEHAN,

President California Grape Growers' Exchange.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT.

A good citizen wants our opinion, editorially expressed, as to a practical method of stimulating greater interest in local affairs on the part of the public.

Years ago, when the present adult generation were children, the attraction that brought out regularly the greatest number of people was the weekly meeting of the old-fashioned debating society. The members of the society would select a subject to be discussed. Then they would select the speakers who were to argue the pros and cons of the subject, two taking the affirmative side and two the negative. A time limit was placed upon each speech. A jury would be selected to render a decision at the close of the speaking, and the contestants would go to it, their partisans rooting with lavish applause at every telling point made.

More vital issues would be brought out in these public debates in one night than would crop out in a year of the ordinary routine of life. And, incidentally, some of the most brilliant orators this country has ever produced received their early training in public speaking in the old-time debating society. Its revival would be a reminiscent pleasure to the older heads among us, and a blessing to the younger generation that is springing up.

The good citizen has our opinion.

If a family works in amity in its aims and its purposes in life it succeeds. If it disagrees, and is divided, it degenerates into a number of separate units, without cohesion, and eventually fails.

This town is one big family, with many members, or units. A loyal spirit of fraternity will weld us together and enable us to work intelligently, energetically and cohesively for our common good, with ultimate success as our assured reward. The absence of such a spirit will reduce us to the status of a collection of units, without organization, without definite purpose, and each exhausting his energy and his resources in a mire of suspicion and cross purposes.

The issue cannot be evaded—it is one or the other.
Which do you prefer for this town?

WHY WE PAY.

The indictment and prosecution of profiteers and gougers in various sections of the country comes as a ray of hope to a people groaning under the burden of exorbitant prices for everything we eat, wear, or use.

It is not the retailer who is feeling the weight of the law, as his prices as a rule are quite within the bounds of reason—at least in the country towns and rural districts.

The gougers who are being hit are generally middlemen or wholesalers, who have been juggling the products back and forth, with a price boost at every juggle.

Normally, the law of supply and demand regulates the price of a commodity. But it has not been so since the beginning of the war, because times have not been normal.

One of the principal reasons for existing high prices is the fact that a commodity passes through too many hands before it reaches the consumer, and most of those hands are experts at the pleasing and lucrative occupation of gouging.

If public officials had taken a firm stand as soon as the gouging commenced—if they had filled the jails when the evil was in its infancy—profiteering would never have reached the gigantic proportions which now stagger the country.

But they didn't, and because of their laxity we are paying the penalty today.

Even at this late day, if our public officials can be brought as a body to a realization of their duty—if they can be prodded into an energetic performance of that duty—we may some day expect the law of supply and demand to again regulate the price of the food we eat and the other necessities we require in our daily life.

We begrudge no man a dollar or a million that is made honestly, but that which is accumulated by dishonest or unfair practices should land its possessor in prison.

SEEING BOTH WAYS.

Some of us are content to go through life noting the mistakes of others, blissfully indifferent to the fact that they see us as we see them.

People think of us only as our own conduct and actions deserve that we be thought of.

If we spend our time in petty and obnoxious criticisms of others, we must expect that they at least will be able to detect the beam in our own eyes.

A few may be short-sighted and unobserving, but the majority of people are wise and quick to note the idiosyncrasies of human nature.

Why is it that some people are universally admired and respected through life, although they have their faults, as do the rest of us?

It is not because those faults are hidden from the world—far from it. It is because such people have hearts endowed with more than the average of human compassion—hearts that prompt the mind to recognize the good qualities of others rather than to be continually seeking out the weaker points.

It is because they see the better side of others that the world thinks so well of them.

All people have their faults, but some, unfortunately, are only able to distinguish those which exist in the other fellow.

You may not agree with all of our editorial opinions, but you will turn right to this page again next week to see what we have to say. We thank you.

No, we haven't an unkind word to say of any human being. It's only when we don't consider them human that we tear loose and rip off a few.

China is short on kegs, casks, and barrels, but in this country we are mainly short of something to put in 'em.

Wise people are always willing to profit from the wisdom of others. That's the reason you read this column.

Some people are never able to make up their minds. It, however, is quite difficult to make up something that doesn't exist.

There is a man in this community who is the personification of wisdom, prudence, and sagacity. Perhaps it is you.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

When the first explorers came to America they found that ground corn or maize was one of the principal articles of diet with the native tribes. The early settlers quickly recognized its value as a food, and all through American history corn has played its part and has been highly prized by the people.

At present it is not used to the extent that it might be by many people because they usually have only one or two recipes for its uses. The following recipes are a little different, and all are delicious and nutritious:

Corn Muffins With Dates

1 cup white cornmeal.
2 tablespoons brown sugar or syrup.
1 teaspoon salt.
2 tablespoons butter.
1 1/4 cups milk.
1 cup wheat flour.
4 teaspoons baking powder.
1 egg.
One-half cup dates cut into small pieces.

Cook together the first five ingredients for ten minutes in a double boiler. When cool, add the egg, the dates, and the flour sifted with the baking powder. Beat thoroughly and bake in muffin pans in a quick oven, or bake in a loaf. The bread will keep in good condition longer if the dates are cooked with the cornmeal and other ingredients in the double boiler.

Variety may be secured by cooking the dates with the other ingredients in the double boiler.

This serves six people.

Custard Corn Cake

2 eggs.
One-fourth cup sugar or light syrup.
1 teaspoon soda.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 cup sour milk.
1 cup sweet milk.
1 2/3 cup cornmeal.
One-third cup wheat flour.
2 teaspoons butter.
1 cup sweet cream.

Beat the eggs and sugar together thoroughly. Sift the flour, soda, and salt together and mix with the meal. Mix all the ingredients but the cream and butter. Melt the butter in a deep pan, using plenty on the sides. Pour in the batter, add (without stirring) a cup of cream, and bake twenty to thirty minutes. When cooked there should be a layer of custard on top of the cake or small bits of custard distributed through it.

For economy's sake milk may be used in place of the cream in this recipe.

This serves six people.

Cornmeal and Rice Waffles

One-half cup cornmeal.
One-half cup wheat flour.
1 cup boiled rice.
2 eggs well beaten.
1 tablespoon melted butter.
One-half teaspoon soda.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 cup sour milk.

Sift together the flour, soda, and salt. Add the other ingredients and beat thoroughly.

This serves four to six people.

Cheese Pudding

1 quart boiling water.
1 tablespoon salt.
One-half cup milk.
One-half pound yellow cornmeal.
One-half pound cheese.

Into the boiling, salted water pour the cornmeal slowly, stirring constantly; place in double boiler and cook for twenty minutes; then add most of the cheese and cook ten minutes more, or until the cheese is melted. Add one-half cup of milk and cook a few minutes. Pour into a greased baking dish. Brown in the oven. This dish is improved by grating a little hard cheese over the top just before it is baked. This pudding can be cut into slices when cold and fried.

It will serve four to six people.

Fruit Gems

One-half cup cornmeal.
1 cup wheat flour.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
3 tablespoons sugar.
2 tablespoons melted butter.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 cup milk.
1 cup currants or raisins.

1 tablespoon flour reserved for flouring currants or raisins.
Mix and sift the dry ingredients; add the milk gradually, the eggs well beaten, melted butter, and raisins, which have been floured. Bake in a hot oven in buttered gem pans twenty-five minutes.

This makes twelve cakes.

At the Fashion Show

FASHION shows are abroad in the land and those in the large cities are repeated on the screen everywhere, so that she who runs—to the movies—may read the story of fall styles. By these means we have a chance to compare the efforts of American producers of women's apparel with early imports and with photographs of French productions that have not actually reached us. If we start out by conceding the French to be masters, we must conclude that Americans are the most apt and progressive of pupils. The admirable features in French gowns are present and quite as admirably managed in those of American manufacture and an independence of ideas has rejected whatever is not suited to us.

It is the part of wisdom to borrow that which is beautiful and characteristic in the dress of other nations. The frock shown at the left of the two pictured here may have come to us by way of France but it started in Russia. An undershirt of black satin, with large overlapping rings embroidered around it, is glimpsed below an overskirt of blue serge joined to a blouse. Both open at the left side and reveal the satin from shoulder to hem with smaller embroidered rings as a decoration. Tassels fall along each side of the opening and there is a long narrow sash of the serge.

Long waistlines and full skirts are predicted for fall and these are set forth very attractively in the dress at the right. In this frock a semi-fitted bodice is joined to a long tunic and opens over a vest of net and lace. A border of satin at the bottom of the tunic is cut in points. There is a collar of brocade satin and cuffs of it finish the sleeves.

JEAN PAIGE

Jean Paige never appeared on the stage and in fact she never made a picture until she came to the Vitagraph studio and was given a role in an O. Henry two reel feature. She is the product of a farm in Paris, Ill., and, like the farmer, makes hay while the sun shines. Soon Miss Paige was leading woman for Harry T. Morey and later for Earle Williams in "The Fortune Hunter," and now she is being co-starred with Joe Ryan in a serial.

But Suppose the Dog Can't Read.

Paris (Ky.), Aug. 24.—William Jacobs was so surprised when an automobile tire blew out that he dropped his false teeth. A dog grabbed the teeth and ran. Jacobs has offered a reward for their recovery.—Chicago Daily News.

"Of Such is the Kingdom of Heaven"

Inside the great brass statue of Moloch a roaring fire was built on holy days.

And into the seething arms of the pitiless god mothers hurled their screaming infants.

In the South Sea Islands, when either parent died, the children were slain and buried also, to wait the parent in the other world.

In China the girl babies were drowned; in Greece they were exposed upon the bleak and bitter mountainsides.

And even Socrates, the greatest of the Greeks, saw nothing in the practice to condemn.

Thus the ancient heathen world treated its babies.

Who was it that changed the world's thought about children? Who made them the most important citizens of the world?

Jesus of Nazareth. It was He who said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not."

He gave them the proud privilege of being His friends.

In every age His Church has been the champion of childhood. Dathus, a Christian Bishop, founded the first orphan asylum. All the laws for the protection of children have their roots and their security in His Church.

Gone are the days of Eldo and the monk in California society. The raccoon has now taken his place as milady's pet. Mrs. Vivian Gordon (left) and Mrs. Walter Varney are among the latest San Franciscans who have adopted the raccoon. They were photographed while enjoying afternoon tea.

The oldest joke, says an exchange, and we almost agree, is the one about the man who went to the ladies' hosiery counter in a department store and said that he wanted to buy a pair of stockings. The saleslady looked at him and said: "Do you want them for your wife, or would you like something expensive?"

"PACIFIC SERVICE" to Its Electric Power Consumers:

The following order, No. 113, effective as of August 19th, has been issued by the Power Administrator of the Railroad Commission of the State of California:

- (1) The use of electric energy for power purposes, except domestic use and use in connection with growing crops and handling of perishable foods, shall be reduced 20 per cent.
- (2) The use of electric energy for the irrigation of vacant lands and of lands from which crops have already been harvested shall not be permitted during the present shortage.
- (3) The attention of consumers of power for the irrigation of growing crops shall be called to the fact that unless a large reduction is voluntarily made drastic restrictions will become necessary.
- (4) The power companies shall direct the attention of the city officials in their territory to the fact that electric energy used in street, sign and display lighting is being lost for productive purposes, and shall urge them to restrict this use as far as may be consistent with public safety.
- (5) The above reductions in the use of electric energy shall be made, as far as possible, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 10 p. m.

We respectfully urge our consumers to realize the importance of this order, which applies to all power companies operating in North-Central California. It has been made necessary by the shortage of water power occasioned by the unusual drought and consequent extreme diminution of stream-flow in the power sources of the State, to say nothing of the constantly growing demand for power for agricultural, industrial and other purposes.

We ask our consumers to assist the Power Administrator and ourselves in prompt compliance with this order, so that the various industries relying upon electric power for their operation and maintenance may not be called upon to suffer a further reduction of supply before the close of the present dry season.

This Job Is What Is Called a Sinecure

CHICAGO.—Once more the courts have decided that Peter C. McArdle is entitled to the position of chief material inspector of the city division of public works and to $35,000 back salary. An order to that effect has been entered in the Circuit court by Judge Oscar M. Torrison.

Mr. McArdle, a contractor living at 3644 Grand boulevard, does not rejoice overmuch because of the decision, however. He has been the victor in other court battles during the last twelve years, and every time the city has appealed, as it intimates it will this time. Besides, the job to which he is restored no longer exists.

The fight dates back to 1908, when Mr. McArdle was ousted by the Busse administration. At that time he asserted he lost out because he refused to cater to the "coal ring grafters."

Appointed to the position of cement tester in 1908, he was made chief tester in 1905, when the title of his department was changed to "the testing division." The same year the salary was advanced from $125 to $250 a month and seven assistants were added.

On March 12, 1908, Mr. McArdle was demoted to cement inspector at $125 a month and Harry C. Parkes was appointed to his former position. He was laid off by Mr. Parkes on Sept. 6, 1909, "because of lack of work," the latter said.

Following this McArdle was requested to resign under penalty of having charges preferred against him. McArdle asserted the charges were groundless, refused to resign and was suspended. He then filed suit against the city.

In 1911 the case was decided in favor of McArdle, but it was appealed to the Appellate court and was returned to the lower courts. In the latter part of 1919 the Circuit court found for him, and again the Appellate court was appealed to by the city. Judge Thomas Taylor, Jr., of the higher court entered an order on Dec. 31, 1919, affirming the judgment of the lower court. A writ of certiorari was then filed by the city to be heard by the Supreme court, but the latter body refused to hear pleas on the matter.

So McArdle gets his job back — theoretically.

However, that $35,000 is a condition, not a theory.

Here's Another "Man Without a Country"

BOSTON.—Fritz Tempelhof, a resident of the United States for forty-four years, must go back to Argentina, according to a decision received from Director of Immigration Caminetti. The decision marked another chapter in the career of Tempelhof, for many years employed in Boston restaurants, who has become known as the man without a country among immigration officials and persons who have interested themselves in the case.

Tempelhof, who is 58 years old, came to America from Germany in 1876. He was 14 years old. He married here, and five children born of the marriage are now living in New York city. One of his sons fought with the American army in France.

Early in 1914 Tempelhof shipped as a steward on a British ship for South America. The ship was in Buenos Aires in August at the outbreak of the war and Tempelhof, because of his German origin, was dismissed from the crew.

He attempted to return to the United States, but was refused passports because he could not prove citizenship. The German embassy declined to help him, claiming that he was not a subject of that country because he had not fulfilled his military obligations before migrating.

For three years he was a derelict in the pampas country of Argentina.

In 1917 he managed to enter as a stowaway on a ship which he thought was bound for America, but which was sailing for England. When opposite the Irish coast and a day out of Liverpool the ship was torpedoed. Tempelhof was picked up by a Portuguese freighter bound for Argentina, and in a few weeks was back in that country.

Several weeks ago he again became a stowaway, this time on the freighter West Galea, and landed in Boston. He was detained by the immigration officials and his case reported to Washington.

The Rev. Walter A. Maier of Dorchester has become interested in Tempelhof's predicament. He said he would appeal to the American Legion for pressure upon the state department to allow Tempelhof to join his family in the United States because of his son's services for the country.

Pity the Plight of These Society Dames

MARINETTE, WIS.—Pity the sad plight of the ten proud and naughty dames from Marinette and Menominee who tossed aside their social and club affairs, together with their clothing, the while they disported in the cooling waters of a friendly little lake.

In the water there were gleaming pink shoulders, many gurgles, much splashing; everywhere joy and merriment.

On the bank, within a dressing tent, lay ten piles of clothing—crepe de chine, charmeuse, flannel lace, silk teddy-bears, dainty corset covers, envelope chemises and ruffled bloomers.

Came a small boy, who, for the nonce, was playing he was an Indian, out to destroy the hated pale faces and all their property.

The filmy piles of lace afforded an overwhelming temptation and he scratched a match on the seat of his ragged trousers, touched it to the garments and departed from there in great haste.

Meanwhile the ten matrons continued in the pleasing performance of the Australian crawl and the porpoise duck until they noticed their dressing tent was in flames. Which explains why nine hid in the bushes while one, wrapped in the salvage of the tent, went to a farm house and telephoned various husbands, who were powers in the business world. It also explains why the selfsame husbands came in enclosed cars, supplied with blankets, and took their wives home by back streets.

That is why the husbands, spurred on by their wives, are looking for the hated despoiler of the pale face.

The community isn't looking very hard for him. It may join in the search when it gets through laughing.

Strangers Barred.

"Would she kiss a man on short acquaintance?"

"No, indeed. It's true she made some concessions during the war, merely as a patriotic duty, but now that we are back on a peace footing she must have known them at least twenty-four hours." — Birmingham Age-Herald.

Its Extent.

"That dentist's practice is spreading, isn't it?"

"I should say so. It covers achers." — Baltimore American.

Dread Suspense.

"Oh, doctor, tell me quick," moaned the fair patient, clasping her lap dog and convulsively nibbling a thousand-dollar check.

"How sick am I? Is it California, Florida or Europe?" — Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Phonetics.

Doctor (pointing to the eye test board on which are the letters P X Y X O Q K, etc.)—Can you read that?

Patient—Lumme! I can read it, but I'm blest if I can pronounce it. — Edinburgh Scotsman.

FIRST AID TRAINING TO MEN AND WOMEN

American Red Cross Is Teaching Hundreds of Thousands Life-Saving Methods.

The purpose of instruction in First Aid to the injured offered by the American Red Cross is to train men and women to administer First Aid treatment promptly and intelligently when emergencies demand it. First Aid treatment is not intended to take the place of a physician's service. A surgeon should always be summoned as a precautionary measure where there is an injury of any consequence, but when one cannot be secured a few minutes' delay may mean a fatality. In such a case a person trained in First Aid is invaluable not only to the individual, but through him to the community in which he lives.

There is perhaps no way of ascertaining the number of deaths or serious disabilities which result from lack of proper safeguards or prompt emergency treatment. It is safe to assert they number thousands daily. There can be no doubt that the application of First Aid methods to each case would immeasurably lighten the country's toll of suffering and death.

The dissemination of First Aid training and information has already produced a far-reaching and beneficial influence in the prevention of accidents on railroads, in mines and in great industrial concerns.

The benefit of a widespread knowledge of First Aid in the event of a great disaster, such as a train wreck, an explosion, an earthquake, etc., is obvious. Laymen who have had First Aid training can render efficient assistance. Many lives may depend upon such emergency care.

Red Cross First Aid work includes (1) the formation and conduct, through Red Cross chapters, of classes for instruction in accident prevention and First Aid to the injured among men and women in all communities and in every industry; (2) the introduction of courses of instruction in high schools and colleges.

The Red Cross is prepared to supply First Aid books and equipment at reasonable prices.

Every person in this country able to do so should, in his own interest, receive Red Cross First Aid instruction. Information about the course and instruction classes may be had at the nearest chapter headquarters.

RED CROSS EXTENDS RELIEF TO POLAND

More than $5,000,000 has been spent by the American Red Cross in aiding the stricken people of Poland. The organization has nursed the sick, fed the starving, clothed the naked, sheltered the homeless, schooled the children and cared for the orphans there. It has conducted a relentless fight against typhus, cholera and other terrible diseases. So today millions of men and women in that resurrected nation speak in grateful appreciation of "The Greatest Mother in the World."

Nearly 200 American Red Cross workers are now engaged in relief activities in Poland. Four large relief bases are in operation and eleven mobile units are in the field. During the last twelve months this organization was largely instrumental in the re-establishment of a million refugees at a cost for general relief of more than $1,000,000. Last winter one-half million war orphans were aided materially, and since then a series of large orphanages have been established to give them permanent care.

But for American Red Cross aid, officials of Poland declared recently, millions of people in that country would have perished of disease, exposure or starvation the last eighteen months. And the work there must be kept up for another year.

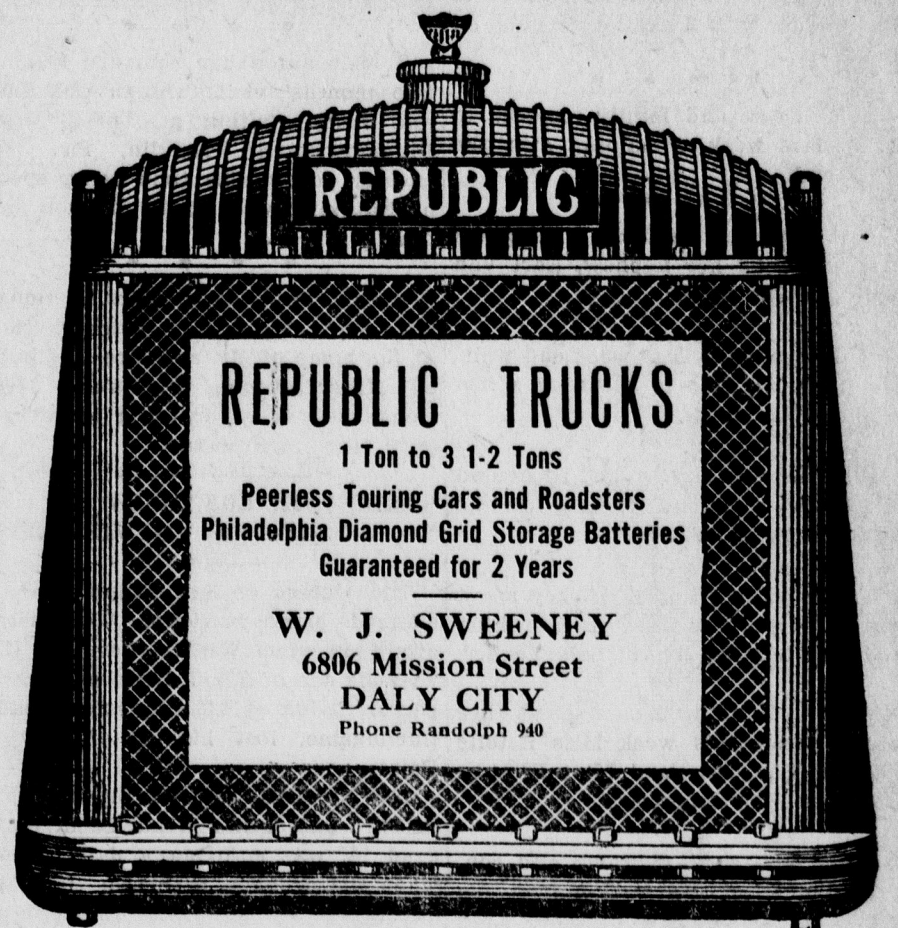

JOE RYAN

Joe Ryan felt that he just had to be a villain to keep up the natural fitness of things. He was born at the foot of Devil's Tower, in Crook county, Wyo., and he just naturally had to play he was a bad man. That he succeeded is evidenced by the hisses he receives in nearly every city and town in this broad land. But away from Vitagraph's thrilling serials, he is one of the most quiet and likable men in the motion picture world. And to prove it he is being co-starred with Jean Paige in a serial.

NATURAL EX-PRESSION.

How grave he looks. Naturally, being a 'dead one'."

To Complete the Outfit.

The smart young automobile salesman was trying to sell a car to a farmer who swore he would never set foot in one of the pesky things. Other salesmen had tried and had failed. "Now, Mr. Cornsilk," spoke the young man, "this bar here is the 'gid dap' rod. This iron thing here is the 'whoa' pedal. The other one is the 'back' pedal. This tin box is the feed bag. Of course, this figger here is the reins. Perfectly simple. I'd like to sell you this little nag." The farmer stroked his chin and looked like a man about to make an important decision. "Well, I dunno, young man. I might say 'yes' if you'd throw in a whip." — San Francisco Argonaut.

BURLINGAME BOY LOSES LIFE OFF COYOTE POINT

The waters of San Francisco bay claimed another victim Wednesday afternoon when William Ferreira, 12-year-old son of Frank Ferreira, a carpenter, living at 125 Bloomfield road, Burlingame, lost his life off Coyote Point.

The Ferreira boy, accompanied by Richard Gasser and Arthur Sacht, both aged 12, was enjoying a daily swim when the accident occurred. Getting out beyond his depth, the unfortunate lad became frightened and lost his nerve. His companions were sitting on the shore when they first noticed the boy's strange actions. Following a call for help, his two companions ran out as far as they dared, but not being confident of their swimming abilities, waited until the struggling boy was carried within their reach. Pulling the body to shore, the two boys did what they could to revive him, but in vain.

A passing auto was hailed and the Ferreira boy rushed to the Red Cross Hospital, but he was found to be past all aid.

"You are sure to enjoy yourself here," said the glib-tongued hotel proprietor. "There are lots of pretty girls to make love to."

"That's fine," returned the young salesman on vacation, "but there's one thing I wish to impress upon your mind."

"And what is that?"

NEW FRATERNAL ORDER FORMING IN SO. S. F.

A new fraternal order is being formed in South San Francisco. It is to be known as the Order of No-Tonsils. Place the hand on the throat and roll the eyes up; then place the hand on the forehead and roll the eyes down—that's the high sign. Croak huskily, shake the head, and swallow twice in quick succession—that's the sign of distress. Jack Martin, Joe Walker, and Andrew Hynding are charter members of the fraternity, having all three recently been given the initiatory work by Dr. R. S. Irvine, high waxyvampus of the order.

Quips.

Newspapers report office boys eager to get since two editors were nominated for the presidency.—Daytona (Fla.) Daily News.

They have a new name for the newest bathing suit worn at Clearwater Beach. It is called the "low, and behold!"—Tampa (Fla.) Tribune.

They say the paper in which the meat is wrapped costs more than the meat. Yes, and it makes lots poorer gravy.—Libertyville (Ill.) Register.

Hombre in Baltimore paraded the main stem of the town dressed in nothing more substantial than his birthday union suit. They pinched him. He forgot he is of the wrong sex to pull that stuff.—Fort Sheridan (Ill.) Recall.

The Wapanuca World has dug up another reason for staying at home with a headache Sunday morning. A big rattlesnake has been killed right bang up against the Methodist church in that town.—McAlester (Okla.) Guardian.

A NEAT LITTLE APRON WITH A NEAT LITTLE MESSAGE

Many residents of South San Francisco received through the mail this week a letter which, when opened, revealed a scrap of calico about three inches square cut in the shape of a kitchen apron. In the apron was a tiny pocket and in the pocket a slip of paper on which a clever little poem invited the recipient to

"Measure your waist line inch by inch And see that the measure does not pinch;

For each small inch you measure around In the pocket put a penny sound."

The verse went on to invite the person addressed to come to Grace Church Thursday evening to a "program with lots of cheer."

The invitation proved effective in getting out a considerable number of the residents of town, who passed a pleasant evening together.

A Felicitous Answer.

The curate rather suspected that he had been preaching on too high a plane for his rural congregation. To test the matter he said to old Mother Brown. "Did you understand what I meant when I spoke of felicity?"

"Felicity," repeated Mother Brown, rather dubiously. "Beant it sommat in the inside of a pig?"—London Morning Post.

Cutting Him Short.

"Senator Snorthworthy makes a good speech at a cornerstone laying, but he lacks terminal facilities."

"I've provided 'em," said the master of ceremonies.

"How's that?"

"When I give a signal previously agreed upon the band will strike up 'The Star-Spangled Banner.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.
